

What's in a Name?

In December 2000, ING Groep, NV (ING) purchased Aetna Financial Services and Aetna International. Over the past year, we've made great strides toward incorporating "ING" into advertising, Web-sites, publications and literature. Finally, to take the next step, we're changing the legal names of the companies under which we do business as well as product names and other names that reference Aetna. ING will simply replace the "Aetna" name. These changes will take place over the next few months.

While our names are changing, what stays constant is our commitment to you, and to fulfilling all of our contractual and other obligations to all of our customers. We remain dedicated to providing first-rate service, diverse investment options, state-of-the-art technological support and exceptional communications to all of our customers. We remain dedicated to helping people achieve their financial goals through first-rate products, flexible solutions, and educational and informational tools.

As ING, we're part of the fifth largest corporation in the world<sup>1</sup>, and we're able to tap our global resources and expertise to bring you exciting, flexible new financial solutions. As your financial services partner, whether you've been working with us for a week or for twenty years, you can count on ING to help you achieve your financial goals. That's what our name means for you.
